

Optimal Liquidation Strategies for Portfolios under Stress Conditions

A.Felipe Macias (IMPA)

Abstract:

In this poster, we compare three different models to calculate the liquidation strategy of a portfolio. These models try to focus in minimizing the risk of having big losses. We present some results comparing these models in different situations and portfolios. We will see that each one has better properties than the others depending what we are looking for.