

Yuri Tschinkel
NYU, USA

Height zeta functions

Height zeta functions are an important technical tool in the study of distribution properties of rational and integral points of bounded height on algebraic varieties over number fields. Of particular interest are height zeta functions of equivariant compactifications of homogeneous spaces under linear algebraic groups. I will discuss harmonic analysis techniques to establish their analytic properties.