

Numerical methods for fractional convection-diffusion equations

Yuan Jinyun ¹

¹ UFPR

In this talk we use discontinuous Galerkin method for 2 dimensional spacial fractional convection-diffusion problems joint with characteristic method. The nonlinear stability and error estimate are studied. Several numerical examples are given for illustrating numerical performance of our proposed method.