

Time reversal of waves in random media

Daniel G. Alfaró Vigo<sup>1</sup>, A. Nachbin<sup>2</sup>, A. Correia<sup>3</sup>, J. Garnier<sup>4</sup>, JP. Fouque<sup>5</sup>, K. Solna<sup>6</sup>

<sup>1</sup> UFRJ

In a time reversal experiment, a signal recorded by an array of transducers and sent back time-reversed into the medium approximately refocuses on the original source center. In this talk, we study the robustness of this phenomenon when the medium changes considering different modeling assumptions. We also discuss the application of time reversal for the detection of changes in the medium.