

Viterbo transfer as localization

Zack Sylvan<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Columbia University

I'll discuss the Viterbo transfer functor between (partially) wrapped Fukaya categories. It is known to be a localization when everything in sight is Weinstein, and I'll explain how much of that survives if we drop the assumption that the cobordism is Weinstein. I'll end by speculating on what restrictions this imposes on Lagrangians.