

Tight Fourier interpolation formulas and uniqueness pairs

Danylo Radchenko

ETH - Eidgenössische Technische Hochschule

I will talk about some of the recently discovered interpolation formulas that involve the values of a function and its Fourier transform at certain discrete sets of real numbers. One curious feature of these formulas is that their construction relies on results from the theory of automorphic forms. I will also describe some related results and conjectures.